MOTHER AND CHILDREN—Mrs. Marie Alley of Lower Bay Road, Lakeshore, is surrounded by 10 of her 11 children who were ruled by Hancock County Youth Court Wednesday to be subject to Hancock County School immunization requirements in spite of their parents' beliefs in chiropractic methods of healing, which she said require no medicine. Parents claim 14th Amendment rights

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Youth Court Wednesday ordered Mr. and Mrs. Donald Alley, a Lakeshore couple, to have their seven school-age children immunized to attend school.

The court, presided over by Youth Court Judge Michael Haas, reached a compromise Wednesday with the couple's lawyer, Johnny Williams, and the court assumed consent responsibility for the shots, Youth Court Referee Charles Carter said.

The Alleys made their personal beliefs against immunization known when the Hancock County Welfare Department charged them with child neglect for not obtaining immunizations for their children to enter Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal Schools.

"I have 11 children, seven of school age, and only one is going to school. She's in ninth grade, and shots aren't required after eighth grade," said Mrs. Alley Tuesday.

"We've lived in this area for three years, and never had any problem getting the children in school. We just said immunization was against our beliefs," she added.

"I think requirements for immunization should be illegal. There is no guarantee that vaccinations help a child, so I am against shots for my children. But I do want them in school," she said.

"Our doctor is a chiropractor, and he believes in natural immunization. Chiropractors are not accepted in Mississippi," she added.

Williams, the Alleys' attorney from the South Mississippi Legal Service in Biloxi, said he questioned the constitutional right of the court to require the shots.

Williams' services were obtained by the Alleys on a legal aid program the South Mississippi Legal Service has for lower-income households.

"The question here is whether the Alleys are being denied equal protection of the law," Williams said.

"The State Supreme Court ruled two groups exempt from the mandatory shots to enter school. Religious groups who aren't allowed to use medicine as part of their religious convictions."

children who have allergic reactions to the drugs," said Williams.

"The Alleys cannot claim this religious exemption, so I question whether these religious reasons are an abridgement of the 14th amendment," he said.

The 14th amendment says no state shall deny citizens equal protection of the law.

"The interesting part of this case is that I don't feel the court had the legal power to require the vaccinations. There is no compulsory law for education; nor is there a law requiring immunization if the children don't go to school," Williams said.

"The law is designed for the schools which cannot accept children without vaccinations under the threat of a misdemeanor charge," said Williams.

Navy opens office for weather units

The U.S. Navy's Department of Oceanography and Meteorology, generally known as USN's weather bureau, will officially be abolished and four regional weather offices will be placed under a new Navy command at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County, at ceremonies scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday.

The four weather stations to come under the new command at NSTL are located at Rota, Spain, where data is collected from the Indian Ocean and Mediterranean Sea; Norfolk, which covers the Atlantic Fleet; Pearl Harbor monitoring the Far East; and Monterey, Calif., which has the capability of relaying messages from satellites to other weather units.

The new department will begin operations at 10 a.m. Friday morning with the swearing in of Captain John McDonnell as head of the new Navy Oceanographic Command at NSTL.

Admiral J. Edward Snyder of the Navy's Oceanographic Office will conduct the ceremonies which will umbrella the four commands from around the world at NSTL.

The present oceanographic office at NSTL will remain intact and will be under the command of Captain Wallace Palmer, who has been stationed in Spain.

He will report to his new post in November, and will be working under McDonnell.

"I'm sure the change will result in increased jobs at NSTL," said McDonnell, "but at this time it is difficult to say how many more persons will be stationed here."

"The truly important thing about this change is that the Navy is centralizing all of its vast oceanographic work in one single location," McDonnell added. "Another important aspect is when we had only the Navy Oceanographic Office."

Civil Defense slates air disaster exercise

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Civil Defense Council will simulate an air crash this week involving all fire, police, medical, news media and governmental agencies in Hancock County, said Civil Defense Director Robert Boudin.

"When the people in the county see all this commotion going on, they have to remember it is just an exercise," Boudin said.

"San Diego's Civil Defense agency held an air crash simulation just prior to the real air disaster that happened earlier this week," Boudin continued. "At least they were half-way ready for the real thing," he added.

The simulated disaster will involve the Civil Defense units from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and Hancock County, according to Boudin.

Also involved will be fire and police departments from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Diamondhead, and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

"The NASA fire department might even take part in the exercise if they aren't firing a missile that day," said Boudin.

First Port Bienville fatality is N. O. man

By RICH ADAMS

A New Orleans man was killed and a Catahoula man hospitalized. Monday morning in the first fatal accident in the ten-year history of the Port Bienville Industrial Park.

The two were working with a crane which hit a high voltage electrical power line.

David K. Walker, 23, 7920 Lucerne Street, New Orleans, La., was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital by Hancock County Coroner Carl Banderet after he was electrocuted at the industrial park.

Walker was working for Engineered Steel, a new company at Port Bienville, when the accident occurred.

He was directing 80 foot pipe lengths at the site when the crane lifting the pipe hit a live high voltage electrical wire, according to Sydney Sandoz, manager of J.L. Fabricating Company, owner of the crane.

Port and Harbor Executive Director W. W. Wehre said Monday's mishap was the first fatal accident at Port Bienville.

Jack Seals, 44, of Catahoula Creek Community, operator of the crane, was hospitalized for observation at Hancock General Hospital after he also suffered an electrical shock in the incident.

Sandoz said he called the hospital from the job site at Port Bienville so a doctor would be at the hospital to treat

Recording artists welcome

Fip Johnson's studio fulfills 3-year dream

By RICH ADAMS

A three-year dream became a reality last week when B. D. (Fip) Johnson, 110 North Second Street, Bay St. Louis, opened a recording studio in a converted tool shed behind his house.

The walls of Fip's Studio are covered with carpet samples of every design and color imaginable for proper acoustics, and the ceiling is coated with an original idea of Johnson's egg carton bottoms.

"It took me three years to build, and as I made money off of my records, I bought more material and built," Johnson said.

Johnson's band, known as Fip Johnson and His Country Boys, has cut four records in the studio.

We've sold over 3,000 records, all country, western and bluegrass music. We haven't been offered a big contract yet, but I plan to get into that," he said. Johnson said the studio is open for anybody that wants to cut a record, and Johnson said his band is available to back up any aspiring musicians.

His recording equipment includes a mixer, an eight-track recorder, two and four-track reel-to-reel recorders, microphones, and homemade speakers.

"Cramb is a unique name. The 'C' stands for my daughter Carol, the 'r' for Rose, my wife, 'a' is for Anne, my daughter Norma Anne's name, and 'm' and 'b' stand for my other two daughters, Marge and Betty," Johnson said.

Johnson can play guitar, steel guitar, string bass, and fiddle.

He plans to hold a fiddling contest in November at St. Augustine's for charity. Included in the fiddling contest will be a talent show and variety show

City Clerk submits resignation

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis City Clerk Eddie Engelhorn submitted a letter of resignation to the Bay St. Louis City Council over the weekend.

Engelhorn, a veteran of about 25 years of service in City Hall, most being on a part-time basis, gave health as his reason for submitting his resignation.

A recent hospital patient, Engelhorn said Wednesday, "My doctor recommended that I leave City Hall."

When the new form of government went into effect in July 1977, Engelhorn was appointed to the position of City Clerk.

"In my letter I told the Councilmen that I wasn't going to leave them without assistance, I will be available to help them for a few weeks," Engelhorn stated.

Exotic night life blossoms in area

By EDGAR PEREZ

The spectacular night blooming cereus or Hyloterium updates, of the cactus family, has captured the imaginations of Bay area gardeners during the plant's once-a-year blooming in late summer and early fall.

Flower lovers are known to stage late evening parties to watch the blooming process which begins about 10 p.m. (CDT) and continues for 25 to 30 minutes.

The bloom's night of glory is over at dawn, unless cut and placed in a refrigerator, after which they can be brought out the next day and enjoyed.

The plant is reported variously as a native of Africa or tropical America, and growing wild in such places as South Florida and Honolulu. "In the center of this unusual blossom is a miniature representation of the cradle of the Baby Jesus and over the cradle is a formation representative of a halo," reports gardener Joe Pilet.

"This year my rather old plant has produced more than 40 blooms in a series of three blooming periods," Ms. Pilet said.

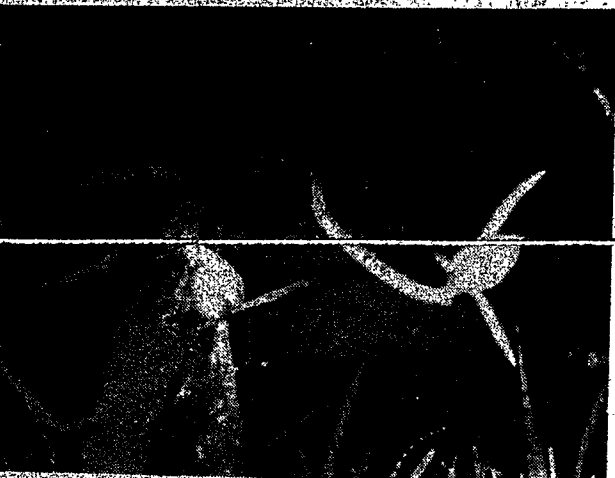

"The flowers are of creme white with some 32 petals which open quivering like a living thing," she added.

The flowers are five to six inches across and highly fragrant. But they stay open only one night. Sometimes, if the next day is cloudy they will remain half-open.

The plants should be kept in a portable container so they can be moved to protection when a freeze is predicted.

Plenty of water and sun are recommended, as well as monthly feeding with plant tabs.

The plants seem to be impervious to disease and in-

OLA seniors vie for scholarships

Seniors at Our Lady's Academy are participating in the Century III Leaders Scholarship program in hopes of winning local, state, and national awards.

One high school senior in the nation will win a $10,000 scholarship, the top national prize in the Century III program.

Two students from each state and the District of Columbia will win $1,500 scholarships and an opportunity to talk with national leaders in a conference at historic Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

And before the national winner is announced in Williamsburg, nine finalists will have earned $500 awards in addition to $1,500 scholarships. Two alternates from each state will receive $500 scholarships.

"We feel this program is very worthwhile for reasons in addition to the scholarships and the Williamsburg trip," said Michael Ryan, OLA principal. "Deadline for student submission of applications is October 13."

"We are encouraging seniors to participate because the Century III competition is a fine way for youngsters to become more involved with the community and social issues," Ryan added.

According to Ryan, Century III is a national scholarship program open to high school seniors and emphasizing future concerns of America. Students are initially judged on leadership abilities, community involvement and current events awareness.

The school winner is also required to write a brief projection outlining what she thinks is a particular issue America is likely to confront in the future and how such a challenge should be met.

The Century III program, which offers $218,500 in scholarships, is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by the Shell Oil Company.

Deadline for student submission of applications is October 13.

Q - I know I have an overpayment for prior training. Is it possible to have a portion of my monthly entitlement withheld to apply to repayment and continue my education with the remainder?

A - This may be possible. If immediate full repayment would cause undue hardship, you may request this monthly repayment method. Upon VA approval, a withholding will be established to liquidate the overpayment within a defined enrollment period.

Q - What happens to the Veterans Group Life Insurance if the insured veteran failed to name a beneficiary?

A - If no beneficiary has been designated, payment will be made in the following order:

(1) widow or widower; (2) child or children in equal shares with the share of any deceased child being distributed among the descendants of that child; (3) parent(s) in equal shares; (4) a duly appointed executor or administrator of the insured's estate; (5) other next-of-kin.

Q - How is my educational entitlement computed while I am enrolled in a correspondence course?

A - Payment is based on 90 percent of the total charges for the course. One month of entitlement is deducted for each $311 paid.

The motion pictures have their Oscars, television its Emmys, Broadway and the theatre their Tonys, and the music and recording world its Grammys, but here in Hancock County we have the Greatest of them all, the beautiful people awards to RSVP VOLUNTEERS.

Approximately 275 seniors contributed 56,000 volunteer hours last year as a labor of love to the following 27 stations:

American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Bay Waveland Cancer Society, Bay-Waveland Hancock County Civil Defense, Bay-Waveland Head Start Program, Hancock County Home, Hancock County Public Library, Humane Society, Hancock County United Way, Hancock County Welfare Dept., Hancock County Hospital Womens Auxiliary.

Also, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, RSVP, Information and Referral, Nutrition, Recreation, Telephone Reassurance, Spend the Day Center, Buccaneer State Park, Waveland Hospitality Booth, Waveland Civic Center, Blood Bank, Silver Creek School for the Developmentally Delayed, Goodwill Industries, Friendly Visitation, Homemakers, and Hancock County Fair.

The RSVP members who volunteered all hours contributed $2,800,000 worth of service to this, their Community, if each had been paid the average of $5 per hour. Orchids to all of the Volunteers for this outstanding and fantastic achievement.

The Annual RSVP Awards Luncheon, held at the Waveland American Legion Post No. 77 on Coleman Avenue, Friday, September 15th, was a huge success with approximately 250 Seniors enjoying a fine meal of lasagna, tossed salad, garlic bread, punch, and ice cream, catered by Margies Delicatessen and Catering Service on Coleman Avenue, a newcomer to Waveland. The Volunteers, congratulate Margies for a delicious meal, and wish them success in their new business venture.

Theresa James, director; Renee Carver, assistant director; and Charles Johnson, driver-clerk, are to be congratulated for a job well done throughout the year, and especially for this fine occasion.

RSVP VOLUNTEER—Una Nuber, serves coffee and biscuits seven days a week to senior citizens when they come to have their blood pressure taken at the Waveland Civic Center. She also records the blood pressure readings. (Staff Photo—Leslie Williams)

It takes cooperation, and a lot of hours, to coordinate an event this large. A vote of Thanks goes to all of the staff from the Service Center in Bay St. Louis who also helped. We would like to introduce those pleasant smiling young ladies from the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Post 77 who helped in the kitchen: Yvonne Virgilio (also RSVP), Marilyn Spear, and Margaret Acaley. From the RSVP Center, Bay St. Louis, Mildred Rupp, Margaret Ladner, Audrey Carey, and Marie Fazande.

Rev. Father Hayes of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Clermont Harbor, offered the invocation. John Rutherford, chancery clerk of Hancock County, led the Salute to the Flag, which was followed by singing of America by Grace Pollosse, and Charles Johnson.

All present congratulated the RSVP personnel on the success of the program in Hancock County, and wished them continued success in all their endeavors.

Guest Speaker was State Representative J. P. Compretta. He was introduced by Jim Hoda, director of recreation and transportation, Senior Citizens Center of Bay St. Louis.

Compretta, after congratulatory to all, gave an outline of all house bills, past, present, and pending, that uniquely affect Senior Citizens in Mississippi.

Compretta, a native of the Bay area, was well received by everyone.

Entertainment was provided by the "Jazz Combo," consisting of Louis Burghard, on piano; Walter Chamberlin, banjo; J. J. Maynard, bass; and Fred Horn, drums.

Tomorrow's a big day

The activation of a new Navy Command at National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL) tomorrow is good news for Hancock County and surrounding areas.

The movement of the U.S. Navy Oceanography Command headquarters to NSTL puts more importance on the site.

We are sure there are many that should be congratulated on their efforts, such as our distinguished Senator John C. Stennis and distinguished Representative Trent Lott for efforts in making NSTL play a more important role in Navy operations.

There have been many who thought after the Apollo flights NSTL would fold up and be a ghost-site. We are happy that the foresight of our Washington representation in both the Senate and Congress have worked as hard as they have to help keep NSTL above water.

Our children of today, after receiving an education, do not have to leave home (Hancock County) as often as they had to just 15 years ago.

True, not everyone will be able to get employment at NSTL, but, a lot are now employed and we are sure many more will be in the future.

We welcome Admiral J. Edward Snyder on another visit to NSTL and all the Navy personnel now stationed in Hancock County and others to be stationed on new assignments.

Congratulations to Captain John McDonnell on his new appointment tomorrow, may it be the best of his Military career.

"The children don't meet the requirements of religious exemption," said Youth Court Referee Charles Carter.

"This court is only concerned with the children. They have missed one month of school. They have to go to school at least 150 days this year or they will be set back one year," he added.

Mrs. Alley bases her argument on a book called "Vaccination: The Silent Killer" written by Ida-Honorof and E. McBean.

In the book are statistics from five states that show cases of polio increased in 1959, the year vaccination was made mandatory, from the previous year. Some of the states show almost double the number of cases in 1959 as compared to 1958, when the shots weren't required.

The book continued to show how in 1961 the author, Elanore McBean of Los Angeles, took the exemption case before the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors and clarified the wording, which states, "immunization of a person shall not be required if the parent or guardian files a statement with the governing board of a school stating that such immunization is against his or her belief."

Ms. McBean, in her book, said "the language would require a statement that the immunization is against his or her belief. It does not limit that belief to a religious belief."

"I believe the body builds up natural immunities against disease. There is no reason for drugs. I go to the grocery store to keep my children healthy, not the drug store," said Mrs. Alley.

"Show me a healthy child who has had his shots, and I'll show you one of mine who has not had his shot and is just as healthy," she added.

"My husband is 100 percent behind me. I was told that if I didn't get my children vaccinated, we could go to jail. All 13 of us are ready to go to jail," she said.

Mrs. Alley was not available for comment following Wednesday's Youth Court decision.

the two men.

"I called 25 minutes before we got there, and when we arrived, there was no doctor," Sandoz said.

"I had to go to the pay phone in the hospital and use my own money to call Dr. John Levens at his office," he added.

Dr. Sydney Chevis said he was not on call, but received a call to report to the hospital.

"I got there no later than 30 seconds after the victims arrived at the hospital," Chevis said.

"Having a doctor there really doesn't make a difference.

The cardiac crews can do all the necessary work. The Walker boy had been dead for 15 to 20 minutes anyway. There was nothing we could do for him," he added.

Harry Gilmore, hospital administrator, said he had already called Dr. Levens, who was on his way to the hospital, and Doctors J. D. Rutherford and Sydney Chevis were already at the hospital, treating Seals.

"We have a cardiac crew at the hospital at all times," Gilmore said.

"They can work without a doctor. They are trained to treat a cardiac patient with cardio-pulmonary resuscitation methods. When the doctor gets here, all we want him to do is stand around with his hands in his pockets and give orders. We are trained to do the rest," he explained.

"What I think happened is that Sandoz was excited, and following procedure, we locked the emergency treatment room door when we wheeled Walker in," he continued.

Sandoz saw no doctor, even though Dr. Chevis was in with the patient, and assumed one hadn't been called," Gilmore said.

"We can get started on cardiac treatment without a doctor," Gilmore said.

"Dr. Chevis was in with the body, and by the time Dr. Levens was contacted by Sandoz, Dr. Chevis had already given Walker shock treatment to revive a heart beat," Dr. Levens said.

"Dr. Chevis was already at the hospital. I was there in nothing flat, and Dr. Rutherford followed on my heels."

Walker's body was taken to the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

He is survived by his wife in New Orleans.

Investigating the accident were Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson.

Office here, we were at the third echelon, but now we have moved up to the second echelon and I now report directly to the chief of Naval Operations," McDonnell explained.

In all, the Navy has moved about 1,000 civilians, enlisted personnel, and officers, principally from Maryland and Virginia areas to NSTL in the past two years.

Captain Charles Darrell, who is chief of NORDA, the Navy's research and development organization at NSTL, said the change is a step forward.

Darrell said he will coordinate his work with McDonnell, but will not be working under him.

"I report directly to the Chief of Naval Research in Washington," Darrell said.

NSTL said the ceremonies Friday will include mayors and other political leaders from the Gulf Coast.

Griffin recuses in Depreo case, Grant will sit

Judge Ruble Griffin, scheduled to preside over the murder trial of Charles E. "Chuck" Depreo in Hancock County Circuit Court's October term, has recused himself from the case.

Depreo was indicted for the April 8 murder of Janice Ladner and also indicted for arson of Ms. Ladner's home and aggravated assault on six-year-old Joy Ladner, the slain woman's daughter.

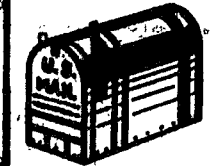

Griffin said he recused himself because of his personal friendship with both the Depreo and Ladner families. He had also represented family members on legal matters prior to assuming the judgeship.

Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk Henry Otis said Tuesday that Circuit Judge Leslie B. Grant will hear the case, scheduled for the second Monday in October.

Otis added that Griffin will hear the rest of the docket for the October term as well as any cases scheduled for Judge Grant in Harrison county while Depreo's case is underway.

Postmaster

responds

From: U.S. Postal Service
Consumer Advocate
To: Mrs. Oscar T. Brew
Rt. 3, Box 526
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mrs. Brew:

Postmaster General William F. Bogler has asked me to respond to your August 27 letter, with enclosure, regarding a change in your rural route number.

A member of my staff talked with Mr. Norman Dilley, Postmaster of the Gulfport, Mississippi, Post Office, under whose jurisdiction the Bay St. Louis area Post Office falls, about the route number change.

He advised that the rural routes in your area have grown to the extent it became necessary to make some adjustments.

Although we attempt to keep these adjustments to a minimum, some route numbers will have to be changed.

The changes are necessary in order to continue providing quality postal service to your community.

You can understand the development which has taken place since the Naval Oceanographic Department has relocated to your area, with the majority of the personnel also relocating there.

I also mentioned to Mr. Dilley your complaint of receiving notice on August 26 that your route number changed on August 25. He apologizes for that and says he knows of no reason why you were not notified beforehand.

In your letter to Mr. Frank Taconi, Postmaster of Bay St. Louis, you mentioned that most of the people cannot afford the extra expense of notifying the different correspondents of the address change.

Whenever the Postal Service makes a change, all the mail will be forwarded for one year.

We believe this to be a reasonable time for customers to advise their correspondents of their new address during the regular course of their correspondence. The Postal Service also has Change of Address kits which are available to our customers.

Please be assured that we are sensitive to your feelings concerning your route number change. However, any alternative method would result in even more costly procedures that translate into higher postage rates.

Thank you for writing.

Sincerely,
Thomas W. Chadwick

Oyster contamination

Dear Seafood Processors:

For many years, a group of microorganisms known as coliforms have been used in determining the level of sewage pollution in water. It has been reasonable to assume that when these organisms are found in water, other microbes capable of producing diseases in man or other animals, may also be present.

As such, standards have been set which often prohibit the harvesting and/or sale of raw oysters. Much of the discussion during the past few years concerning shellfish standards has revolved around the question of whether standard bacterial indicators used today are adequate to evaluate the level of viruses in oysters.

The final question as to the safety of oysters may ultimately boil down to virus contamination.

During the past several years, University of Southern Mississippi investigators, under contract to the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, have been evaluating and isolating virus contaminants from oysters. These studies dealing with two oyster growing areas in Mississippi, Bayou Graveline, and Pass Christian, have culminated in what we think is some interesting results.

I have asked Dr. Rudy Ellender of the University of Southern Mississippi to present a seminar October 5, at 7 p.m. at the Biloxi Community Center, 500 E. Howard Avenue, to those of you who are interested in this subject.

His work may have a significant bearing on future shellfish standards. I'm sure that you will want to take this opportunity to discuss oyster contamination with Dr. Ellender.

See you there.

Sincerely,
C. David Veal, Leader

Weirdos and Open letter to bleeding hearts HNC Parents

September 23, 1978

Dear Parents:

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:

The following article from the September issue of The Armed Citizen, expresses a danger to the thousands of Gulf Coast residents who enjoy the sport of fishing.

"The hunting fraternity is no stranger to aggravation, a condition caused by verbal barrages from protectionist groups.

"Through the cons the hunter has become hardened to these attacks and at least in some cases, brushes them off as the rantings of a 'bunch of weirdos' or 'gaggle of bleeding hearts.'

"Through these trying times, the fishermen who do not hunt, have often leaned back in their boats and enjoyed the hassle, firm in their belief that the enemy will never set their sights on his favorite sport.

"But now the worm has turned.

"Fishing to bleeding hearts attack and anglers may soon experience the same harassment their hunting brethren have gone through.

"The anti-fishing call is working through an organization called (KIND) 'Kindness in Nature's Defense,' or the National Humane Education Center. They have decided to spread their anti-hunting gospel through the nation's school system, hoping some day, to harvest 'brain-washed' adults who have never enjoyed nor will permit others to enjoy the great sport of fishing.

"Their campaign is aimed at children ranging from 6 to 10, and young adults in the 15 to 18 age groups.

"The kiddie corps are told that the fish is a little animal just like us, who lives in the water; that they love to jump and play just like humans and that when they are caught on a cruel hook, they fight for their life. Then they ask the question: 'Is it sporting for a big human to laugh and call this fun?'

"Following this diatribe, the impressionable youngsters are told that if the fisherman will not listen to them, they should beg them to use artificial bait, because worms and shrimp have feelings too.

"Move over hunters, so that fishermen can become better targets."

"The next thing we know, there will be a campaign underway to do away with all living foods. This of course would eliminate most of the farmers and poultrymen, the shrimpers, and the commercial fishermen. But so what — who needs them.

"Maybe someday, some wise person will come up with a painless way of eliminating the 'bleeding heart nuts' of America, non-essentials, while they let this country of ours 'go to hell.' Besides, by what right do they use our schools for their indoctrination?"

Sincerely yours,
Jack Mohr

Mrs. Joe Pilet
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mrs. Pilet:

Thank you very much for your letter of recent date regarding your desire to obtain a new American Flag for the City-County Library of Bay St. Louis.

I appreciate your contacting me about this matter, and in an effort to be of every possible assistance to you, I have today ordered a Flag and will send it to you as soon as it has been flown over the Capitol.

PRC suffers defeat in 17-0 loss

Pearl River College was dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten Saturday night by the Jones County Junior College Bobcats.

The 17-0 setback not only dimmed the Wildcats hopes for a south division crown, but it also sent PRC eleven tumbling from the ranks of the nation's top 10.

A half-back pass in the second quarter was the only real offensive threat of either team in the first half. The executed on a third down and 25 situation with the Bobcats on the PR 34.

Jones' quarterback Randy Sullivan pitched to tailback Junior Wallace and Wallace, at the last minute, pulled up and lofted an aerial down field to Robin Pitts, who was wide open. The Bobcats were on the scoreboard, but head coach J. C. Arban, of the Wildcats didn't agree with the play at all.

"As I told the officials the Jones center was downfield and the play should have been nullified," Arban said. "It's just not right. Two or three other times, I can't remember what the specific plays were, I called the officials on them but they just shrugged it off."

Pearl River's top two quarterbacks, David Wyman and Joe Howard, were both knocked out of the game in the first half.

Wyman attempted a pass and banged his fingers on a defender's helmet. Howard was hit in the back, blindsided on a passing attempt.

Freshman quarterback Jody Simon took over and could not seem to execute the plays, according to Arban.

"Our screens would be set up perfect but we threw it away," Arban said.

Jones scored again on a Lou Barry field goal with 8:14 left in the third quarter. With 4:28 left in the game, Pearl River attempted a fourth down conversion on its own nine yard line but Simon was sacked back at the five.

Jones took over and four plays later, fullback Carlton Robertson plunged through the middle of the line for the score. The extra point by Barry failed but an offside call on Pearl River gave Barry another shot which was good.

"They played hard," Arban said of Jones. "They've got a good football team and they came to win. Our receivers were cutting their routes short instead of going deep. On the next play, the quarterback could get sacked."

"Our backs made some good cuts and runs," Arban said. "On one play they would get 18 yards on a run and the next play, they would get dropped behind the line. We stuck to our pattern - fumbling the ball and throwing interceptions." The Bobcats intercepted two Pearl River passes.

Pearl River will have a chance to get Itawamba next Saturday, as the Wildcats go on the road. Itawamba is 1-2 on the season.

FILE-UP-Arnold Dedeaux, No. 55, winces with pain as another Pass Christian player drops on top of the pile of players going for a fumble. Bay High came up with the ball. The Pirates handed the Tigers their third loss of the season, 47-20. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

'Battle of the undefeated' as Rocks and HNC meet at St. Stanislaus

By RICH ADAMS
Friday two undefeated gridiron squads, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, led by head coach Bill Poole, and Irvin Favre's Hancock North Central Hawks will battle it out in Rock-A-Chaw stadium to see who remains the only unbeaten team in the intercity rivalry triangle of HNC-St. Stanislaus-Bay High.

St. Stanislaus won last week in a 20-3 rout over the Rebels of Notre Dame.

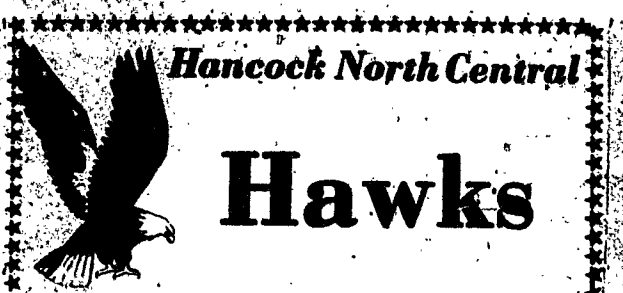

"The defense won it for us," said coach Poole.

"They forced five turnovers inside the Notre Dame 30 yard line. We took two of the recovered fumbles in for touchdowns and got field goals from two more," he added. "We're going to give Hancock North Central the best we've got," coach Poole continued.

"HNC has a 14-game winning streak. They have a real good ball club. Their biggest asset is they execute well," he added.

"Vincent Adams, the HNC quarterback is real quick. We will have to work on containing him. We are working on our tackling game," Poole said.

Hancock North Central head coach Irvin Favre said not playing last week both helped and hurt his team. "We had four men out with a virus. The rest helped, but they still don't look too good," Favre said.

"On an off week, you tend to lose momentum and get out of shape, and that can hurt," he added.

Coach Favre said his squad might have a problem containing the offensive backs of St. Stanislaus.

"It will just be a matter of being in the right place at the right time," he said.

"If our linemen are strong enough to 'whup' their linemen and get to the runners, we will contain them," he added.

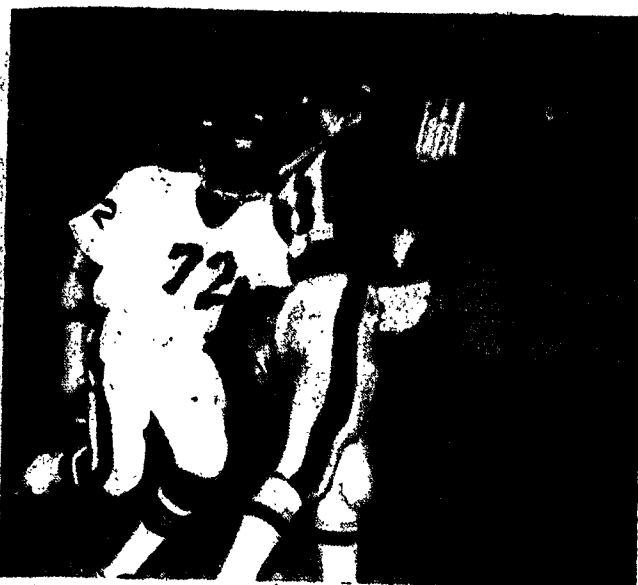

He speculated his linebackers on defense might not be big enough to break through the line and get to the offensive backfield of the Rocks. "We need big people to take on Scott Senner, and to stop him," Favre continued. "If we don't contain Senner and Peter Bernheim, the St. Stanislaus quarterback, we have a long night ahead of us," he added.

Asked about the physical aspect of the Friday night battle, coach Favre said it would be a tough contest.

"It is a rival game. We had a very physical game against Bay High in pretty much the same rival situation. No matter which way the game goes Friday, it will be a rough, physical game. I can expect a few injuries, and a lot of bumps and bruises," he said.

Game time for Friday night's contest is 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

Patrolman is medalist

Officer Wayne Sikes of Hamilton brought honors to the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol recently when he won a gold medal during the International Police Olympics in San Diego.

The 10-year MHSP veteran won the top title in heavyweight judo competition when he demonstrated his unique ability against challengers from New York and California.

Overall in the competition, there were 1,800 entrants from 31 states and five countries. This is the first International Gold Medal that Sikes has earned, but he holds a National Gold Medal he won during the 1976 National Police Olympics held in Florida. He earned a Bronze Medal during competition in the 1974 International Police Olympics.

Earlier this year, Sikes won the Masters Division of the Amateur Athletics Union (AAU) meet held in Chicago. The Masters Division is made up of entrants from 35-39 years old weighing over 209 pounds. Taking first place in this category is the highest title one can achieve in the AAU. During the first three months of 1978, Sikes earned two first place awards, one of which was the heavyweight division in the AAU tryouts in New Orleans. He took a second place award in Memphis. He will defend his Gold Medal status during the International Police Olympics to be held in Long Island, New York in 1980.

Bay Catholic suffers loss

The Bay Catholic Crusaders elementary football team went down in defeat at the hands of Charles B. Murphy Elementary in Pearlington last week by a score of 12-0.

A pep rally was held at Our Lady of the Gulf campus prior to the game in Pearlington.

The pep squad, along with the cheerleaders, entertained the fans during halftime.

Head Coach Bob Boudin, along with his assistants George Valentine and Bill Hoffman, held a "meet the team night" September 12. Players were introduced to parents and P.T.O. members. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The pep squad will hold its annual skating party October 4 at Twin Pines Skating Rink. Money raised from ticket sales will be used to purchase pom-poms for the squad.

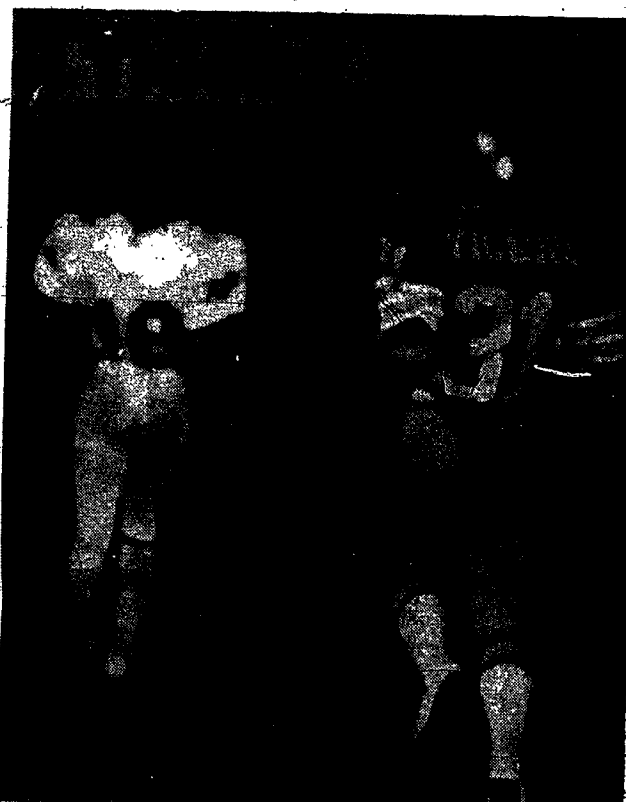

Mississippi sunrise-sunset tables listed

Besides the alarm clock and a patient wife, one of the most useful items to any hunter is the sunrise-sunset tables that tell him when he may start shooting.

Hunters who pursue ducks, deer, squirrels, and other game must know when legal shooting hours begin and end.

Listed below are the Central Standard sunrise and sunset times for Jackson. One hour must be added for Daylight Savings Time if and when in use.

Pass Christian faces tough Rebel defense

By RICH ADAMS
The Pass Christian Pirates, coming from a fast-paced 47-20 rout over Bay High last week, face the Notre Dame Rebels in a homecoming match-up Friday night at Pass Christian.

The Rebels were defeated by St. Stanislaus 20-3 after the error prone Notre Dame offense gave the Rocks five turnovers, three of which were converted into scores.

"It will be a rough, physical game, no doubt about it," said Pirate head coach Bob Lumpkin.

"Notre Dame has the best defense in the conference next to d'Iberville. They hurt themselves with fumbles and turnovers, and they have had trouble scoring," he continued.

Notre Dame has a sound defense, and everything we get against them, we'll have to earn," he added.

Notre Dame goes into the game with a 2-2 record, the two losses coming against Bay High, 2-0, and St. Stanislaus, 20-3.

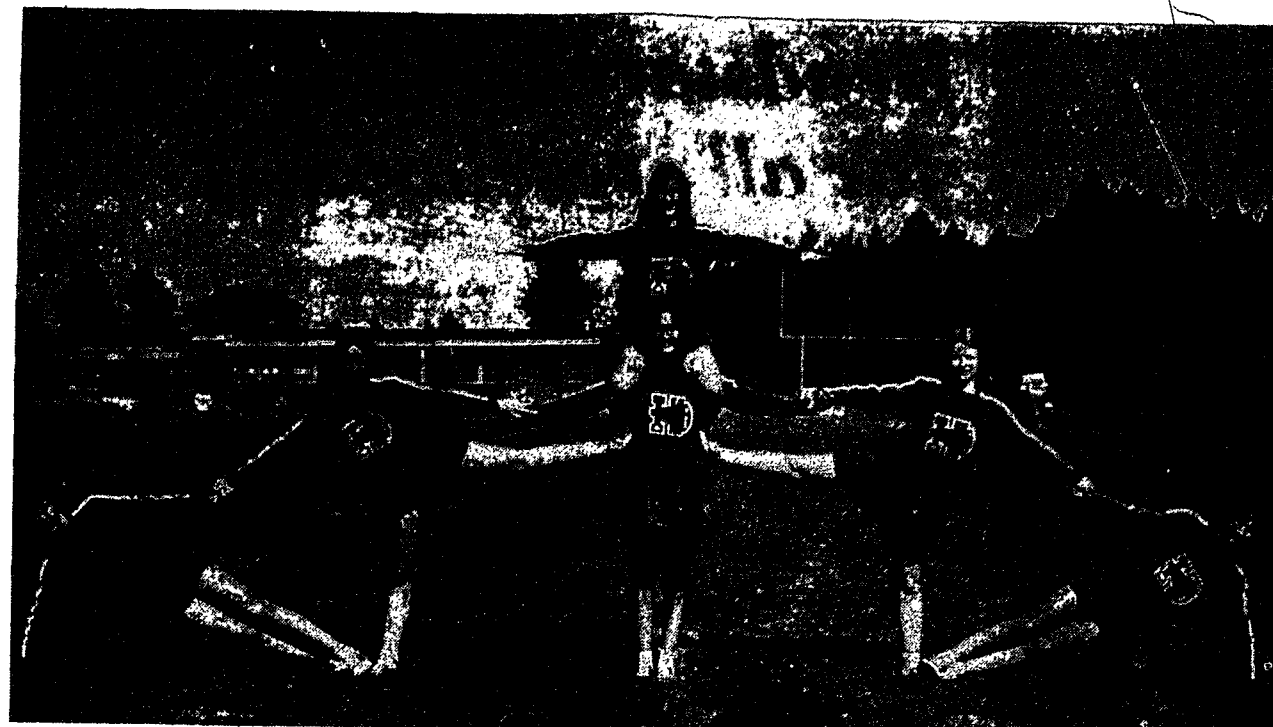

Pass Christian has suffered only one loss to d'Iberville, 21-0.

"We made several mistakes in Friday's game that we have to correct," said coach Lumpkin.

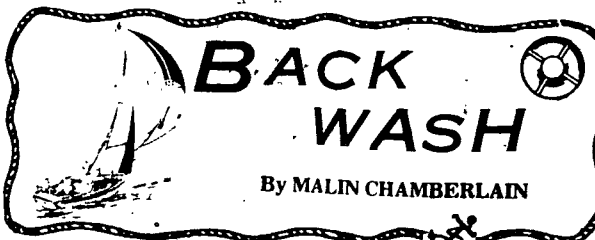

"I am generally pleased with the offense, but I'm not totally pleased with the overall defense," he added.

"We can't overlook Notre Dame. It won't be an easy homecoming win," he added.

Gametime for Friday's contest is 7:30 p.m. at Pirate stadium.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club held its Sailing Banquet this past Sunday. Chuck Breath, BWYC Race Committee Chairman expressed his thanks and congratulations to all those members who participated in this sailing season.

Bay-Waveland once again proved to be one of the top competitive clubs in the country. At the banquet, the individuals who worked so hard to give BWYC its high reputation were duly honored.

The COCK OF THE WALK trophy for the top skipper in the club for the season was awarded to Ed Turnipseed; second runner up - Randy Santa Cruz; third - Rod Stieffel.

The BOB BOH trophy for the winner of the Round Robin Series went to Bubby Eagan; second runner up to Randy Santa Cruz; third to Harry Chapman.

The BAY BOURBON trophy, the women's championship, went to Judy McKinney; second runner up, Ellen Eagan; third, Cindy Stieffel.

The Commodore Kenneth Peppidine trophy for the top A skipper went to Dennis Stieffel; second runner-up Elizabeth Santa Cruz; third Tommy Heausler.

CHECK YOUR GAS TANK

Your boat has now been in operation for a number of months. According to the Mercruiser stern drive boating authorities, this would be a good time to check the gas tank for accumulated water.

It usually gets in by condensing on the inner walls from damp air when fuel level is low.

Bay High slated to meet d'Iberville powerhouse

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay High Tigers, after suffering defeat from the Pass Christian Pirates last week in Tiger Stadium, go against another Pascagoula Conference powerhouse this Friday night, the d'Iberville Warriors.

Pass Christian, defeating the Tigers by a 47-20 margin last week were shut out by the Warriors two weeks ago, 21-0.

"You can't find a weak spot in d'Iberville's squad," said Tiger head coach Billy Rhodes.

"They have a tremendous, large defense, and an offense that will just roll over a team," he added.

"We're just going to have to stick with our usual game plan, a balanced game plan," Rhodes said.

Rhodes said five of his starters on defense were out, including Hewitt Parsons, Tim Delcuzze, Ken Ferrell, Mark Hardee, and Joe Cabiness.

"We have to try to contain them. They don't have the explosiveness that the Pass Christian squad did. They just beat you to death with good blocking, good running, and good execution," coach Rhodes continued.

"We're going into this game with a desire to win, but we know it will be physical. We already have a lot of players hurt. We aren't going to risk the remainder of the year by getting them hurt permanently," he added.

The game will be played Friday at 7:30 at the d'Iberville Stadium in Biloxi.

Headstart seeks shots for all preschoolers

All Mississippi Headstart Agencies are seeking to achieve 100 percent immunization against childhood diseases among the 30,000 families involved in the programs by November 1, 1978.

Students and teachers are already required by law to be up to date on inoculations; however, the most vulnerable group is the preschool age children not enrolled in any licensed educational or child care facility.

In preparation for special week-end clinics scheduled for the last of October, Headstart parents are urged to pre-register their younger children at their Headstart Center by Sunday, October 8, 1978.

Cooperating with Headstart in this effort are the Mississippi State Board of Health, Mississippi Health Systems Agency, Mississippi Medical and Surgical Association, and the National Council of Negro Women.

Morris K. Lewis, president, Mississippi Headstart

Directors Associations, has pointed out the importance of proper health care for every child. Preventive medicine is a significant element of such care.

It is imperative that each child involved with the Headstart Program pre-register in the Immunization Clinics.

YES WE CAN! Even though new home prices continue to spiral upward, Jim Walter can help you beat the high cost of building. Let us show you how today!

Average U.S. Home May Soon Cost $78,000

The average price of a typical American home could reach the almost incredible level of $78,000 within five years. This startling information was released in early March 1977 in a report by the Joint Center for Urban Studies of Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The price of housing in the past few years has jumped twice as fast as family incomes. Contributing to this rapid rise in the price have been inflation, government regulations, and periodic shortages of mortgage money - all of which has caused a sharp decline in housing starts since 1973.

Homes built on your property to any stage of completion from the shell to 90% finished.

Stamm watercolor hangs to honor Grace Rhodes

By JOE PILET
In conjunction with Grace Rhodes Appreciation Day today, one of the early works of local artist Nadine Stamm has been placed on display in the City-County Public Library.

The delicately detailed water coloring done in earth tones features an arrangement of horsetail fern with fossilized shell, mineralized rocks and a gracefully designed earthen bowl.

The subject is accented by an Oriental lattice and balanced by a suggestion of sunset shadings.

"The purpose of art is an expression of human experiences," explained the artist who noted Joe Pilet commissioned the work.

The bowl was a wedding gift to Mrs. Pilet from the late Hester Johnson of Baton Rouge and Pass Christian; the fossil shell from the collection of Mrs. Norvin Oliver of Ocean Springs; and the horsetail fern which grows well in this area is of prehistoric origin.

The fern is from a group of perennial rush like herbs, having hollow jointed stems with leaves reduced to mere scales. Spores may be seen in the painting, borne in cone-like spikes.

The slender evergreen stems grow up to four feet in height, and fossilized segments of earlier horsetail may be seen in museums. Dinosaur of the Mesozoic Era fed upon horsetail fern.

Mrs. Stamm works from her studio in her home on North Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis, and much of her time and talent in recent years has been devoted to painting sailing vessels, sea scapes and marine life.

Mrs. Stamm, whose favorite medium is watercolor, studied at Gulf Park College and Art Institute of Chicago. Her work has been exhibited in galleries and museums throughout the south. Local purchasers include Pete Fountain, Dr. George Byrne, Dr. Victor Bazzone and Peoples Bank of Biloxi.

SSC Sideline Club plans Italian Dinner

Frank Wittmann III, president of the Sideline Club, Inc., has set Saturday, October 7, as the date for the club's Italian Dinner.

The dinner will be held in the Stanislaus cafeteria and will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Included on the menu will be an Italian salad, meatballs, spaghetti, garlic bread, Parmesan cheese, salad dressings, and iced tea.

Beer, wine and soft drinks will be available. Cake will be served as dessert.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained at the school office, from any member of the Sideline Club or at the door. Early purchase of tickets will eliminate waiting in line at the door.

There will be a special line for all take-out orders. This line will handle nothing but orders to go. Efficient, fast and courteous service will again be the trademark of the dinner, according to Wittmann.

He also urged all last year's members who have not re-registered for the current session to do so soon. The deadline for re-registration is October 3.

The present membership in the club is now over the 100 mark. This includes 30 new members who are in the club for the first time.

The next Sideline Club sponsored event will be the Annual Turkey Shoot to be held on November 5.

Let me remind the readers of this area that Ladies Exercise Class is scheduled Mondays and Thursdays at the Park from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Recreation Hall.

If you are interested in getting in shape for the fall months bring a mat for the floor exercises and wear non-constricting clothes and tennis shoes. After the 45 minutes of exercise we take a mile walk. The evenings, believe it or not, are becoming quite cool, so now is the time to come on out and participate. For further information call the Park, 467-3822.
